(a) whether the Central Government have received a spate of requests and advices from the United States of America in regard to giving out protection to the so called "American Intellectual Property";

(b) whether some kinds of stings have been included in the prospective business culture between the two countries;

(c) whether Government of India have expressed its reservations on the subject; and

(d) if so, what are the details thereof?

THE MINISTER OF STATE OF THE MINISTRY OF COMMERCE (SHRI P. CHIDAMBARAM): (a) to (d) On 26 May, 1991 the United States Trade Representative (USTR) initiated investigation against India under the Special 301 provisions of the U.S. trade legislation, on grounds of perceived deficiencies in India's patent law, trademark and copyright regimes and the enforcement of intellectual property law. The United States also represented that access for US motion pictures was restricted through quotas, fees and other barriers.

Government are satisfied that our laws relating to trademarks and copyright, together with some amendments proposed to the Copyright Act, are adequate. A decision has also been taken to improve market access for motion pictures and videos. As far as the issue of patents is concerned, attention of the United States has been drawn to the fact that this is the subject of mutilateral negotiations, which have yet to be concluded.

On 26 February, 1992, the USTR announced the decision to terminate the investigation against India under Section 301.
